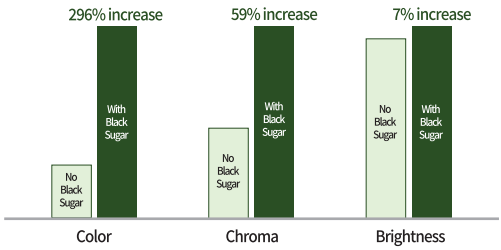
Coloring Results with Black Sugar



Experimental Purpose	To compare hair dyes with and without black sugar and check the differences in color, chroma, and brightness.
Experimental Process	Apply dyes with and without black sugar to 9 hair samples. After 30 minutes, rinse and measure color, chroma, and brightness for comparison.
Experimental Result	Compared to hair dye without black sugar, the hair dye with black sugar showed higher results: color 296%, chroma 59%, and brightness 7%.

Kelp helps keep the scalp healthy, while black sugar adds shine, softness, and moisture, keeping hair glossy and hydrated.

Kelp

Rich in vitamins A, C, D, iodine, calcium, dietary fiber, and minerals, kelp helps nourish the hair and keep it shiny and moisturized.

Black Sugar

Rich in minerals, vitamins, and calcium, black sugar helps moisturize hair, prevent dryness, and add shine. It is gentle enough for sensitive skin.

※ Results may vary depending on hair thickness and the original hair color. ※ More colors can be created through color blending.

CANDY T/S Treatment Color Cream

Patent-Certified Functional Hair Dye Composition (Kelp Extract & Black Sugar)

Effect of the Invention (Developed to deliver excellent coloring power, scalp protection, and superior moisturizing benefits.)

This functional hair dye composition uses active ingredients that nourish damaged hair while effectively coating the hair evenly. It delivers excellent coloring power without reducing the hair dye's original coloring performance or formulation stability. It also helps improve product adhesion and viscosity, while minimizing irritation on sensitive scalps and providing nourishment to the hair. * Excerpt from patent disclosure
